

TITLE I PLANNING & SUPPORT

Professional Development

Our Title I Planning & Support initiative focuses on helping schools meet federal requirements under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) and the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Title I provides federal funding to ensure all students receive fair and high-quality education, while also engaging families in the educational process.

Benefits of Title I Planning & Support

- Schools can develop and fine tune effective parent and family engagement policies
- Families will have opportunities to participate in their children's education and share their experiences
- Schools will build capacity for stronger family involvement
- Both schools and families will work together to improve the educational experience and success for students

We can help you meet these federal requirements:

- Develop parent and family engagement policies at both school and district levels
- Budget funds to support parent and family engagement requirements
- Develop a shared responsibility for a School-Parent Compact
- Build capacity for family involvement
- Provide opportunities for families to share their voices about their student's educational experience

Who should participate?

 School Administrators

 Teachers & Educators

 Parents & Families

 Title I School Leaders
